

Herald's

Late Returns Are Changing
the Total, But It's Certain That Taft Got the Ah in Utah.

Sporting

New Record For Fight Fans:
Two Fighters "Slugged Over the Ropes" To Take the Count.

Page

If Princeton Defeats Yale and Yale Defeats Harvard, Oh My!

The Tiger Has a Chance to Trim the Bulldog and Harvard Is Expected to Bother Yale—Some Slants at the Gridiron.

By DAMON RUNYON.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 8.—If Princeton defeats Yale, and Yale defeats Harvard, how much are we bid for the football championship title of 1912?

This is a fine puzzle to push at people convalescing from a celebration, but duty compels. The Tiger has a chance to trim the Bulldog, and the canine is ever liable to bite his address in the crimson blankets. Thus we release into a high fever of uncertainty until the Yale-Princeton encounter is over.

Harvard Should Bother Yale. Harvard should give Yale one of those close-decision trimmings this year, if the showings of the two teams to date can be taken as the basis of the guess. But Harvard always has to contend with a strong New Haven prejudice against anything or anybody from Cambridge doing anything or anybody in the city which Mr. Charles S. Mellen kindly included on his right of way.

The Blue Eleven is classed as an enigma, which is as serious an affliction in football as it is in the dictionary, and it will take the Princeton game to develop all the fine work as well as its strength. Even from the Harvard eleven will be handicapped when it faces the Bulldog by the fact that it comes from Harvard, which is a very grave offense in the eyes of Yale.

Fulton a Great Kicker. While the youthful, square-toed Charley Brickley kicked a hole in the door of football fame large enough to admit the entire town of Everett, Mass., whence he hails, it was the No. 14 boot of another young man in that same game which really loosened the panels. It was Fulton, of left-end fame, whose heavy lifts were the chief subject of a racy discussion among the Tigers after the "calm."

Fulton seemed able to place the ball wherever he wanted to, and that was usually where we want it, commented a young Jesuit with a sweet smile.

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

Kicking defeated the Tigers, and kicking will probably be the route picked by Harvard when it travels toward the Yale goal. With a man like Brickley constantly cracking away from all angles and all ranges, the Blue eleven will have something to worry it from start to finish.

Brickley was used with good judgment during the Princeton game, except that it seemed he was worked too hard, and too long, and it finally resulted in him being laid out completely. As long as field goals count in the scoring, and as long as scoring is the main thing desired by a football team, it seems like excellent generalship to keep a wonderful kicker like Brickley shooting steadily, and making him take all manner of chances, just as the Everett boy did Saturday. He may miss some, but he is also bound to land some, and Brickley's goal from a 47 yard placement shows that no distance bars him.

A touchdown is all very well, but when a team wants to win the field goals are just as useful as the touchdowns.

Brickley's Brother a Star. Speaking of Brickley, a wild-eyed Harvard enthusiast dashed just a crowd of New Yorkers after the game and overheard one of them say something about Brickley being quite some football player.

"He is," roared the Harvard shillabear. "He is? Well, wait till you see his brother!"

If Brickley's brother is as good as

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

Kicking defeated the Tigers, and kicking will probably be the route picked by Harvard when it travels toward the Yale goal. With a man like Brickley constantly cracking away from all angles and all ranges, the Blue eleven will have something to worry it from start to finish.

Brickley was used with good judgment during the Princeton game, except that it seemed he was worked too hard, and too long, and it finally resulted in him being laid out completely. As long as field goals count in the scoring, and as long as scoring is the main thing desired by a football team, it seems like excellent generalship to keep a wonderful kicker like Brickley shooting steadily, and making him take all manner of chances, just as the Everett boy did Saturday. He may miss some, but he is also bound to land some, and Brickley's goal from a 47 yard placement shows that no distance bars him.

A touchdown is all very well, but when a team wants to win the field goals are just as useful as the touchdowns.

Brickley's Brother a Star. Speaking of Brickley, a wild-eyed Harvard enthusiast dashed just a crowd of New Yorkers after the game and overheard one of them say something about Brickley being quite some football player.

"He is," roared the Harvard shillabear. "He is? Well, wait till you see his brother!"

If Brickley's brother is as good as

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

Kicking defeated the Tigers, and kicking will probably be the route picked by Harvard when it travels toward the Yale goal. With a man like Brickley constantly cracking away from all angles and all ranges, the Blue eleven will have something to worry it from start to finish.

Brickley was used with good judgment during the Princeton game, except that it seemed he was worked too hard, and too long, and it finally resulted in him being laid out completely. As long as field goals count in the scoring, and as long as scoring is the main thing desired by a football team, it seems like excellent generalship to keep a wonderful kicker like Brickley shooting steadily, and making him take all manner of chances, just as the Everett boy did Saturday. He may miss some, but he is also bound to land some, and Brickley's goal from a 47 yard placement shows that no distance bars him.

A touchdown is all very well, but when a team wants to win the field goals are just as useful as the touchdowns.

Brickley's Brother a Star. Speaking of Brickley, a wild-eyed Harvard enthusiast dashed just a crowd of New Yorkers after the game and overheard one of them say something about Brickley being quite some football player.

"He is," roared the Harvard shillabear. "He is? Well, wait till you see his brother!"

If Brickley's brother is as good as

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

Kicking defeated the Tigers, and kicking will probably be the route picked by Harvard when it travels toward the Yale goal. With a man like Brickley constantly cracking away from all angles and all ranges, the Blue eleven will have something to worry it from start to finish.

Brickley was used with good judgment during the Princeton game, except that it seemed he was worked too hard, and too long, and it finally resulted in him being laid out completely. As long as field goals count in the scoring, and as long as scoring is the main thing desired by a football team, it seems like excellent generalship to keep a wonderful kicker like Brickley shooting steadily, and making him take all manner of chances, just as the Everett boy did Saturday. He may miss some, but he is also bound to land some, and Brickley's goal from a 47 yard placement shows that no distance bars him.

A touchdown is all very well, but when a team wants to win the field goals are just as useful as the touchdowns.

Brickley's Brother a Star. Speaking of Brickley, a wild-eyed Harvard enthusiast dashed just a crowd of New Yorkers after the game and overheard one of them say something about Brickley being quite some football player.

"He is," roared the Harvard shillabear. "He is? Well, wait till you see his brother!"

If Brickley's brother is as good as

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

Kicking defeated the Tigers, and kicking will probably be the route picked by Harvard when it travels toward the Yale goal. With a man like Brickley constantly cracking away from all angles and all ranges, the Blue eleven will have something to worry it from start to finish.

Brickley was used with good judgment during the Princeton game, except that it seemed he was worked too hard, and too long, and it finally resulted in him being laid out completely. As long as field goals count in the scoring, and as long as scoring is the main thing desired by a football team, it seems like excellent generalship to keep a wonderful kicker like Brickley shooting steadily, and making him take all manner of chances, just as the Everett boy did Saturday. He may miss some, but he is also bound to land some, and Brickley's goal from a 47 yard placement shows that no distance bars him.

A touchdown is all very well, but when a team wants to win the field goals are just as useful as the touchdowns.

Brickley's Brother a Star. Speaking of Brickley, a wild-eyed Harvard enthusiast dashed just a crowd of New Yorkers after the game and overheard one of them say something about Brickley being quite some football player.

"He is," roared the Harvard shillabear. "He is? Well, wait till you see his brother!"

If Brickley's brother is as good as

Brickley, we hereby put in a bid for one look at him, anyway. The younger Brickley is said to be a student at some prep school, and he will be along a little later. One Brickley is a good many in a football game, but if they ever get two of the same family in a lineup, Harvard will crumble the league.

That story from Montana about Clark Griffith saving his life by bearing an inflated deer with a rock the size of a baseball will not do around the big ring, where they've been unable to find any team to take the old Fox's delivery, even with a guarantee. Chance and Roger rank right along with John J. McGraw as managerial features of the National A. League, but had a Mack Jennings, Calahan, Charles Griffith and Bresnahan would certainly be rich in drawing cards.

BOWLERS IN CITY AND INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE START PLAY MONDAY NIGHT

Close Matches Expected Between Pinspillers—Hansen's Beats Sherman's.

Monday night bowling will get in full swing in El Paso and will continue throughout the winter months. Both the City League and the Industrial League will have their opening games on that night.

Some fast bowlers are in the game this season and high scores are looked forward to during the matches. The schedules have been arranged as follows:

City League Bowling Tournament.
Nov. 11—Old Guards vs. Callishers.
Nov. 12—Tuttle vs. Andrews.
Nov. 13—Elks vs. Court House.

Nov. 14—Elks vs. Andrews.
Nov. 15—Old Guards vs. Tuttle.
Nov. 16—Callishers vs. Court House.

Nov. 20—Old Guards vs. Elks.
Nov. 21—Callishers vs. Tuttle.
Nov. 22—Andrews vs. Court House.

Dec. 2—Tuttle vs. Court House.
Dec. 3—Old Guards vs. Andrews.
Dec. 4—Elks vs. Callishers.

Dec. 9—Callishers vs. Andrews.
Dec. 10—Tuttle vs. Elks.
Dec. 11—Old Guards vs. Court House.

Dec. 16—Elks vs. Court House.
Dec. 17—Old Guards vs. Callishers.
Dec. 18—Andrews vs. Tuttle.

Christmas week open.
Dec. 20—Callishers vs. Court House.
Dec. 21—Old Guards vs. Tuttle.
Jan. 1—Elks vs. Andrews.

Jan. 12—Callishers vs. Elks.
Jan. 14—Old Guards vs. Andrews.
Jan. 15—Tuttle vs. Court House.

Jan. 20—Callishers vs. Andrews.
Jan. 21—Tuttle vs. Elks.
Jan. 22—Old Guards vs. Court House.

Jan. 27—Elks vs. Court House.
Jan. 28—Callishers vs. Old Guards.
Jan. 29—Tuttle vs. Andrews.

Feb. 3—Callishers vs. Court House.
Feb. 4—Elks vs. Andrews.
Feb. 5—Old Guards vs. Tuttle.

Feb. 10—Callishers vs. Tuttle.
Feb. 11—Old Guards vs. Elks.
Feb. 12—Court House vs. Andrews.

Feb. 17—Callishers vs. Elks.
Feb. 18—Tuttle vs. Court House.
Feb. 19—Old Guards vs. Andrews.

Feb. 24—Callishers vs. Andrews.
Feb. 25—Old Guards vs. Court House.
Feb. 26—Elks vs. Tuttle.

The teams will lineup as follows:
Elks—Clark (captain), Hewitt, Batesman, Holmes, Graham, Hill, Critchett and Hall.

Callishers—Callishers (captain), Bryan, Barola, Schutz, Blumenthal and Hardin.
Old Guards—White (captain), Houck, Weber, Foster, Dietrich and Christie.
Court House—Ford (captain), Watt, Scott, Higgins, Grandover, W. Foster and Sukerman.

Andrews—Andrews (captain), Lehman, Ridley, Stratton, Stone and Walk.
Tuttle—Tuttle (captain), Briehs, Ray, Davidson, Henry, Abbott and McKinney.

Industrial Bowling League.
Nov. 11—Elks vs. Court House.
Nov. 12—Globe Mills vs. Moose Club.
Nov. 13—E. P. & S. W. vs. Clerks.

Nov. 18—Swift & Co. vs. Globe Mills.
Nov. 19—M. & S. Co. vs. Clerks.
Nov. 20—E. P. & S. W. vs. Moose Club.

Nov. 25—Swift & Co. vs. E. P. & S. W.
Nov. 26—M. & S. Co. vs. Globe Mills.
Nov. 27—Moose Club vs. Clerks.

Dec. 2—Swift & Co. vs. Moose Club.
Dec. 3—Globe Mills vs. Clerks.
Dec. 4—M. & S. Co. vs. E. P. & S. W.

Hansen and his bowlers ran away with Sherman's team in the Toro league game at the Cactus club Thursday night. Henry, of Hansen's took high total with 246 pins and high game with 225. Tonight the Smelter league games will be played.

The score:
Hansen's team.....122 112 170 412
Henry.....123 225 157 505
Fullerton.....165 143 144 452
Caldwell.....124 137 153 412

Totals.....589 615 612 1816
Sherman's team.....123 141 107 412
Total.....169 187 323 679
Edgerton.....118 129 129 476
Byrnes.....141 169 129 439
Anderson.....173 149 129 451

Totals.....811 966 492 1669

HERRMANN WILL BID FOR CHANCE AND BRENNAN
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—After breaking off negotiations with president Charles W. Murphy for Joe Tinker as manager of the Cincinnati team, president August Herrmann wired Roger Bresnahan, of the St. Louis Nationals, and Frank Chance, last year's manager of the Chicago Nationals, for their terms.

President Herrmann said he was assured he could get one of these men and that whichever was available probably would be the next manager of the Cincinnati team.

PITCHER HELD FOR ASSAULT.
Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Roy Walker, the Cleveland American league baseball pitcher, arrested at Peoria, Ill., is wanted here on the charge of assault to commit murder. It being alleged that he is a member of a "gang" which attacked Tom and Ben Northern, brothers, the former being seriously cut across the stomach and the latter severely bruised.

Joe Rivers intends to spend at least 10 days hunting and roughing it in the hills before starting work for his Thanksgiving day fight with Joe Mandot.

Johnny Lore, the New York boxer, who has sprung into the limelight by defeating several good lightweights recently, may have a chance at Ad Wolgast on Thanksgiving day.

Tom Carson, formerly a catcher with the Chattanooga Southern league club, has been selected to manage the Waco, Texas, league team. He succeeds Ellis Hardy.

Jake Stahl, manager of the Boston Red Sox, says that Hugh Bedient will be a better pitcher next year than Joe Wood.

"Wildcat" Ferns, the Kansas City welterweight, has signed articles for a ten round bout with Tommy Howell, of Philadelphia, to take place at Indianapolis November 13. The fighters will weigh in at 145 pounds at 2 o'clock.

Carl Morris, the heavyweight fireman, is eager to get back into the boxing game. The Oklahoma giant wants to meet Larry McLean, the former Cincinnati catcher.

Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis middleweight, knocked out Jack Flynn in the fourth round of a scheduled ten round bout at Wabash, Ind.

Roger Bresnahan behind the bat and Frank Chance on first base. He is what Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pirates, has in mind for next season. Dreyfuss won't talk about it, but the report came from an official source that the Pirate owner is settling up the pins for a sensational baseball deal that will bring the deposed managers of the Cubs and the Cardinals to Pittsburgh.

Honus Wagner, the dread of all National league pitchers, finds Rube Marquard particularly easy. Wagner has faced the Hyde 25 times and made seven hits for extra bases, which would give an average of .304. In all Hans has made 12 hits in 25 times at bat, while facing Marquard in six games, which means the healthy average of .522. The Dutchman's hits included

World-Wide Boxing Tribunal To Have Control Of Sport

"Lucky Jack" McGinnis Shows He Is a True Pal by Burying Little Jockey Johnny Ural.

By ED. CURLEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A boxing commission that will be worldwide in its rulings is in the process of formation. Charles J. Harvey, secretary of the New York state athletic commission, has forwarded letters to every reliable club in this country asking for their support; and as soon as enough favorable responses are received the organization will be launched.

The idea is to conduct the boxing game on the lines under which the national baseball commission governs baseball. A meeting is to be held at some central point and a commission of five or seven men will be appointed to supervise and handle the various questions that may arise. In this manner the sport would be placed on a higher standing than it now enjoys and affairs carried on in a manner that would permit no objections.

The organization would protect clubs against unscrupulous boxers and managers and at the same time protect boxers against unreliable clubs. Through this controlling body all contracts would have to be lived up to, which would help to reassure the public and retain its support.

At the present time the state athletic commission has a mutual agreement with the controlling spirits of boxing in France and Australia, by which all rulings and suspensions of one body are respected by the other organizations. It is expected that England will join the international body, which will mean the combination of three leading powers of boxing.

Outside of the main reason to clarify the sport, a long noted want will be filled. This is the scale of weight for the different boxing classes. At present nearly every country where boxing thrives has its own schedule, which causes confusion. There have been and many requests from different states as to the working of our commission that Harvey feels satisfied there will be no difficulty in getting all the leading promoters in line, and thus assure the success of the newly planned organization.

Knockout Out Brown says if there ain't one thing there's another. The little Yorman lad was matched to fight Matt Brock at Cleveland, but he won't do so. After spending several weeks training at Bridgeport Brown was knocked out by yellow jaundice.

They buried little Jockey Johnny Ural with few to give a lingering thought to the past and that is with the exception of "Lucky" Jack McGinnis.

Ural rode for McGinnis. He wasn't a star rider, but he always did his best. They're not breaking any too good for "Lucky" Jack, but that didn't stop him from being a true pal. He paid Ural's hospital bill, spent $200 to ship the body home and came all the way from Baltimore to Brooklyn to see the faithful boy laid in his grave.

The day of Ural's death McGinnis had Sam Jackson in a race he couldn't have lost. He scratched the runner for, as he put it, "Ural and the horse were great pals." Also he had to pay $20 for withdrawing Sam Jackson.

"Lucky Jack" is back in Baltimore doing his best. He tried to keep this a secret. The world may be said to be heartless, but there a few good ones left.

Mike Gibbons says that his injured hand is going well, thank you, and that he will be ready for Eddie McGourty some time next month. This will delight McGourty, for he has been waiting up for the next few weeks.

"That gets you nothing," says Eddie's manager, Morty Farkins.

JACK JOHNSON HELD ON $30,000 BOND
Federal Officers Arrest the Champion Pugilist on Charge of Violating the Mann White Slave Act.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight prizefighter, was arrested by federal officers at night, charged with a violation of the Mann act. His arrest followed the return by the federal grand jury of an indictment charging him with having caused the transportation of Belle Schieber, a white woman, 26 years old, from Pittsburgh to Chicago, August 19, 1911, for an unlawful purpose.

Federal officers searched the south side several hours before Johnson was found hiding in a hotel, surrounded by four negro guards.

An attempt was at first made by the guard to prevent the officers from entering Johnson's room, but they were pushed aside and the government requisition was served on the fighter without serious difficulty.

At the federal building tears came to Johnson's eyes as the officers put handcuffs on his wrists.

"You don't do this; I'm not going to run away," he said. "I'm square; you ought to know that."

His bond has been fixed at $30,000. The prizefighter was taken to the home of his aged mother, on the south side, who signed the bond, along with several others, and Johnson was released.

Major Leagues Start Again April Tenth
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Thursday, April 10, is the one the fans want to mark with red ink. Because that is the date upon which the American and the National league clubs will open the season of 1913. It may be a bit early to announce the opening date of another baseball season, but the same date is the date that has already been agreed upon by the members of the schedule committee.

That means that the season will close earlier than usual and that the world's series will begin at an earlier date as a result. This is true. The next world's series will start on October 5 or 6. The first game was played on October 3 last year.

Officials of both leagues figure that the sooner the world's series games are played the better. They figure that the weather is more likely to be good during the early days of October than it is later. That's responsible for the determination to open the season earlier than ever before.

The Suit for a Man!
The Suit that appeals to a man—a man of discriminating taste—is the Suit that is distinctive, that has character. There must be no question about the style—it must be up-to-the-minute in every detail. But it must not be freakish or extreme. Such a Suit expresses his own individuality. These are the qualities that you will find in

Alfred Benjamin Clothes
These clothes can be bought in El Paso only at

Styleplus Clothes RC LIGHTBODY CO Arrow Shirts

Mills Building
Mills Building.

geo. a. mansfield & co.
mens wear

Mills Building
Mills Building.

Daffydils

ALL THE POLICE HAD BEEN CALLED IN THE TRUST MANAGER WAS PALE AND SCARED. HE HAD RECEIVED A PACKAGE MARKED INTERNAL MACHINE. THEY SOAKED IT IN WATER, OPENED IT AND THERE WAS A BOX AND INSIDE WAS A PAPER THAT SAID, "WHAT MAKES THE PRUSSIAN BLUE?"

TAKE 'EM OFF MAURICE! WE KNOW YOU

HA! 'TIS A BURGULAR

SH!

HALT! OR I FIRE.

YOU KNOW ME NOT, GOOK?

NIX, WHO ART THOU?

I'M THE BOOB THAT PUT THE OATS IN GOATS.

ASORT ADAR SAYS, "THAT'S THE KIND OF A GUY I AM."

GENTLEMEN BE SEATED TA-RA-RARA

INTERLOCUTOR-BONES, WERE YOU EVER STRANDED? BONES- YES SUM WHEN OUR COMPANY WAS PLAYIN' DE SEASHORE FROM FLORIDA UP TO MAINE.

INTERLOCUTOR-DID YOU PLAY TO GOOD BUSINESS? BONES-NO SUM YOU SEE, WE WAS PLAYIN' TO LIGHT HOUSES ALL ALONG DE COAST.

NATHAN CLANCY WILL NOW SING, "WHERE, OH WHERE HAD MY LIMA BEAN?"

TAKE THIS SEAT OLD LADY!

HA! 'TIS A BURGULAR

SH!

HALT! OR I FIRE.

YOU KNOW ME NOT, GOOK?

NIX, WHO ART THOU?

I'M THE BOOB THAT PUT THE OATS IN GOATS.

Open Saturday Evening 7:11 to 10:30.

We Guarantee
Style, Fit, Workmanship and Perfect Satisfaction

We tailor high-grade made-to-measure clothes at a popular price. At a price within the reach of every man